Hey there Justin,

My name is Mic and I wanted to write to you and hopefully have a chance to brighten your day. We don't know each other, but I wanted to let you know that you have people who are praying for you.

There is a bunch of us writing people today to send some encouragement to those in prison. You have someone who is rooting for your success, wishing you happiness and good health. No matter what you are going through or how you are feeling, don't give up. Never give up. Your story is far from over. I know I am messed up so many times in my life, and I am thankful that we are able to pick ourselves up and keep moving forward. I know it may feel like every day is on replay right now, but even in the worst of times, we can find a reason to smile.

I wanted to share with you a couple of jokes to hopefully give you a reason to laugh.

Q. What is Bruce Lee's favorite drink?

A. Waaaaaatttttttttaaaaaahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh (with karate moves of course)

Yes I am fully aware it is super cheesy, but I do love a good joke.

So I read a quote the other day that I wanted to share because it really hit me. "In order to succeed, your desire for success should be greater than your fear of failure." Maybe you can relate to this. I know for me, I worry more about failing so I never start something. Then again, I never succeed either. Fear sometimes takes over for. Do you ever fear failure?

I know for me, when I feel like I am living life on pause or when I mess up, I pray to God for guidance and for answers. I did include some devotionals for you if you would like them.

No matter how you are feeling always remember you have a God who loves you and you have people who are praying for you, and I am in your corner rooting you on.

God Bless,
Mic
